Message From The Chairman...

Little acts of kindness, little words of love...

Charity and pity are the foremost virtues of Christianity. These are also the foundations of Sanatan Hindu Dharma. Buddha was the incarnation of compassion. Jainism which is based upon Ahimsa, embraces the animal world- even it is kind to the meanest of living things. Every religion emphasises kindness, sympathy and empathy. When one lives only for one's own comfort it is no life. The supreme happiness of life is the conviction that you are able to make others happy. Indeed, people are not beautiful as they look, as they walk or as they wear, people are beautiful as they help, as they share and as they care .

Once in a certain cold country a very poor boy was standing in the street looking at a big shoe store. The day was cold, as cold it could be.

Yet the shivering barefooted little boy stood alone gazing at the shoe store. Suddenly a very rich lady stepped out of the shoe store. "Little boy", accosted the well dressed lady, lovingly touching the boy on the shoulder "what are you doing out here in the cold ?". "I am asking God to give me a pair of shoes", said the boy. Hearing this, the lady escorted the little innocent boy inside the shoe store. She washed his dirty hands and mopped them dry and brought him some beautiful socks and a nice pair of shoes. The boy felt so happy to put on those socks and shoes. Then, as the lady was leaving, the poor boy grabbed her hand and said, "Are you God's wife?"

Little acts of kindness, little words of love, make the earth happy like the Heaven above.
